Why this is your best cookware buy . . .

This is probably the most wanted type of cookware in America. The reasons? Gleaming stainless steel gives lasting beauty, ease of cleaning. Elegant copper bottoms conduct heat quickly and more effectively than any other surface, spreading it evenly throughout each utensil. Snug-fitting covers, flat bottoms and straight sides prevent heat loss, retain proper moisture. No hot spots. No constant watching or stirring to prevent burning.

Foods cook faster with little water the low-heat way—whether you use gas or electricity. You save on fuel . . . and you save all the precious nutrients, the nourishment in the good things you cook. Vegetables retain their garden-fresh flavor and color, meats stay juicy and cook with less shrinkage . . . everything is done to its mouth-watering best!

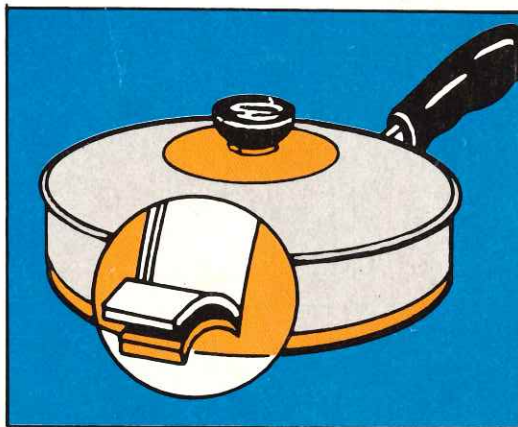

Made to exacting specifications in the old tradition, the quality of this set is evident in the smallest detail. Black bakelite handles and knobs are scientifically balanced, permanently riveted, cool to the touch. Each cover has a copper insert for a decorative touch. Each handle has a stainless steel ring for convenient hang-up. Better looking! Better cooking! Depend on it to prepare the meals that feed your family.

- Quality! Only the best copper and stainless steel are used. A smooth layer of solid copper is bonded to virtually indestructible, heavy stainless steel for the ideal blend of beauty, practicality.

A feast for the eye as well as the table

Real show-off cookware! Just wait 'til you see how it sparkles when hung on your wall. Polished to a rich, gleaming luster, it stays that way with soapy water and any of the easy-on, rinse-off copper cleaners. Resists pitting, staining, rusting and warping.

Carefully designed and crafted, the layer of solid copper is electrolytically bonded to the strong stainless steel. Durable construction is not only very easy to maintain, it prevents pans from warping because of excessive heat . . . and it assures consistently fine cooking results year after year.

One of the most efficient ways to cook! Copper conducts heat almost twice as effectively as aluminum, so you cook in less time with less fuel and water. The heat spreads out from the bottom to the sides and cover, completely surrounding the food. No hot spots, scorching or burning. Just safe, steady, even-cooking for every recipe.
